ENGLAND SOLVES CRIME PROBLEM

Excellent Work by Police and Prompt Justice for the Offender.

London.—The celebration of Scotland Yard's one hundredth birthday has furnished the occasion for an extensive analysis of England's victory over crime.

The metropolitan police force was organized a century ago by Sir Robert Peel, whose name is preserved in the popular appellation "bobbies." It has been built up into an institution of such efficiency that England now claims to be the least criminal nation in the world.

How great is the difference in crime between British municipalities and those of other countries may be seen in a comparison between the two largest cities of the world, New York and London.

Cities New York Crime.

The total of all crimes in New York, with a population of 5,000,000, during one fiscal year was 333,063. The total for London during the same period was 15,062, out of a population of 7,700,000. In other words, London's weight of criminality was practically a per cent that of New York.

Closely associated with the Londoner's exultation in this low figure is the belief that is caused by moral rather than armed forces. The London policeman does not carry a revolver. His only weapon is a truncheon, or stick, which he uses only when he himself is attacked. The "bobby" is a respected member of the community and usually a magnificent specimen of manhood. He walks unarmed into the most dangerous quarters of the East end of London. He has been known to arrest six men who attempted to attack him merely by wielding his baton audaciously.

Swift Justice in Britain.

The Londoner believes that much of the crime in America is caused by the fact that the police are an armed force. Violence, he thinks, breeds violence.

In England the two undoubtedly major factors which conduce to the reduction of crime are the successful detection of crime by Scotland Yard and other police organizations, and the prompt justice meted out to the offenders. In the metropolitan area of London last year not a single murder was left unsolved. In every case the murderer was uncovered and brought before the court.

Criminal justice is far faster in England than civil justice. It is so unusual for a criminal to be tried, convicted and being within four weeks of the commission of his crime. Such rapid-fire punishment deters prospective criminals from incurring the risk of a life fate.

Southerner Calls the Snake Most Sensible

Charleston, S. C.—Many people choose peculiar livelihoods, but H. Ellison Mitchell, who lives near here, has one of the strangest. He raises snakes for a living and likes his work.

"Through experience," he says, "I have found that snakes are cleaner, more graceful, more beautiful in color, in design and in characteristics, and more sensible than any wild animal I have ever known—including the raccoon and panther."

Alone in the swampy woods of Berkeley county, Mitchell lives with his snakes. He sells them to zoos all over the country, to scientific laboratories and a few to people for pets. Mitchell takes real pride in his strange profession. A former student of King's college, Nova Scotia, he studies the reptiles and their ways. And he invites the visitor to inspect his stock in trade.

Emperor's Carpet is Sold for $115,000

London.—The record price of $115,000 was paid for a carpet—known as the Emperor's carpet—at Christie's auction house recently. The carpet is said to have been a present from Peter the Great to Leopold I of Austria about 1808, and it remained in the possession of the Hapsburg family until the revolution in 1821. It is a Persian carpet, and was made probably in the time of Shah Tahmasp, 1524-76.

Anna's Love for Jail a Problem for Police

Bellefonte, Pa.—What to do with Anna Scholten, strange police here. After a year in jail, she persists herself in the judge's front porch and refuses to leave until re-arrested.

Anna has been in and out of jail many times. Recently she was released on condition that she "be good." This she refused to do. Even though she was as much as thrown out of jail she made herself at home on Judge Furt's porch and demanded that she be locked up again.

There is nothing to arrest her for as yet. But if she keeps on hanging around the judge's porch he may have to give in to get rid of her.

Borax Found Deadly to Mosquito Larvae

Ithaca, N. Y.—Borax has had another use added to the long list of things it is good for by Prof. Robert Matheson and E. H. Himmman of Cornell university. They have discovered that a concentration of one and one-half parts in a thousand of water is very quickly fatal to the larvae, or "wigglers," of mosquitoes that breed in rainwater barrels, cisterns and other exposed reservoirs. The borax seems to hold its larva-killing properties for a long time; one experiment ran from July 25 to September 7 of last year without any signs of weakening at the end.

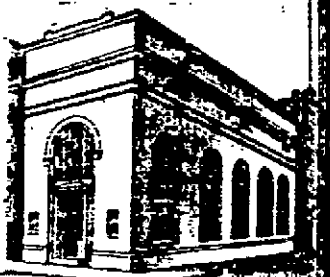

The two entomologists add, however, that borax should be used only where its possible effects on other animals and on plant life will be of no consequence. They are of the opinion that a cheap form of the chemical can be successfully marketed for mosquito-fighting purposes.

In the course of their experiments they raised large numbers of mosquito larvae, which had to be fed artificially. They state that they found common compressed yeast, such as goes into the coliculate "double malted," very good wiggler food.

Why regular calls at this Sign save money.

Ten-minute monthly inspection at the Exide Service Station will mean longer and better service from your battery

BATTERIES are like teeth—you will get longer and better service out of them if they are inspected regularly by an expert.

Give your battery only ten minutes a month at an Exide Service Station. That's all it needs. Just long enough to let the Exide Service man test the voltage, and see if you need distilled water, or grease on the terminals.

It is a trifling bit of work, but you have no idea what a difference it will make in the long run. Regular care by a battery expert will often add as much as 25 per cent to the life of a battery. And think what a saving that would mean to you!

Look for the Exide sign

You can always be sure of expert service at an Exide Station. No matter what make of battery you have, it will pay you to call regularly at the Exide sign.

Get into the habit of stopping there once a month. It takes so little time—just about long enough to smoke a cigarette—yet it will save real money in battery costs.

Hassell to Try Again Next Year

Copenhagen, Denmark, Sept. 26.—(P.)—Hart Hassell, American flier who arrived here today from Greenland with his transatlantic companion, Parker Cramer, announced that he would make another attempt next year to fly from the United States to Stockholm by way of Greenland.

Hassell said that on his return to the United States he would begin immediately an effort to arrange for the financing of another attempt next spring in the same type of machine as the Greater Rockford which was used this year. He added that he expected to be able to recover the scientific instruments and motor which had been left behind in Greenland.

The American aviator declared that the failure of this year's attempt was due to a lack of gasoline after the plane had been blown out of its course. He expressed the conviction that Stromsford, the point at Mt. Vans which he had planned to use as a base, would make an excellent landing point for transatlantic flights by way of Greenland and Iceland.

Loan Association Shows Increase

At the semi-annual meetings of the board of directors of the Kingston Cooperative Savings & Loan Association held Tuesday night a dividend on all shares for the past six months was declared at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent per annum.

Practically all this money is represented by first mortgage loans made for the sole purpose of aiding in home owning, the amount loaned during this six months period being nearly $200,000.

The association now enters upon the last half of its thirty-sixth year and is issuing its 74th series of installment shares, the first 49 series of shares having matured and paid out.

CALDWELL EXPLAINS RADIO RESTRICTION

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP).—O. H. Caldwell, member of the Federal Radio Commission, in a letter dated September 24, to Martin P. Rice, manager of broadcasting of the General Electric Company, said that reports that Station WGY would be limited to "daylight" or "one hour" operation were misleading. Mr. Caldwell pointed out that as KGO of Oakland, Cal., was also a General Electric station there was nothing to prevent modifying KGO's time so that both stations might enjoy exclusive channel operation, each with a time schedule at least 90 per cent of its present operating hours.

The only restriction imposed by the commission, Mr. Caldwell said, was that two stations should not operate simultaneously while intervening distance is linked by darkness unless the two stations are later synchronized.

KINGSTON YOUTH SENT TO ELMIRA REFORMATORY

Gerard Sayers, aged 17, of this city was sentenced to an indefinite term at Elmira Reformatory by Judge Russell Wiggins in Orange county court at Newburgh Tuesday. Sayers was charged with stealing the automobile of Kenneth Green in Newburgh on August 27.

Among several other prisoners sentenced was James R. Bonn, 22, a farmer of Middletown, who was sent to state prison for a term of from eight to 20 years on a charge of attacking Mrs. Cleopatra Finch, wife of a prominent Middletown business man. Bonn pleaded guilty to attacking Mrs. Finch after forcing her from an automobile in which she was riding with an employe of her husband.

ITALIAN-AMERICAN CLUB BEING ORGANIZED HERE

Missionary Meeting and Tea.

The September meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Reformed Church will be held at the home of Mrs. John D. Tibbals, 311 Washington avenue, on Friday, September 28, at three o'clock. This meeting will be followed by a missionary tea, out of doors if the weather is favorable. As this is the first fall meeting a large attendance is hoped for. Matters of importance are to be discussed. Pledges for Mrs. Shafer's fund will be received at this time. The packing of the box for the Indians and the articles needed for it will be told of by the chairman of this committee. The newly elected president will preside at the meeting.

BOSTON MANNERS IN 1772.

The change in American manners, or New England manners, in a century and a half, is strikingly illustrated by certain observations in the journal of the Marquis de Barbe-Marbois, translated from the French in the August Atlantic Monthly. This French nobleman and his party arrived in Boston 149 years ago, on their way to join General Washington, and his comments on what he saw and heard are highly interesting. He says it was "good usage" in Boston to "commence the day by drinking a glass of wine and eating a few cakes," then "toward ten o'clock one took coffee or tea with fruits and a few cold meats." Later, if one paid or received calls there was "more wine." Then came dinner, which "lasted two hours," and about five o'clock there was tea "or punch," with a "rather frugal supper" at a later hour. "Americans are sober," we read, "but they do not easily permit foreigners living among them to exercise this virtue." The women "retire from the table at dessert," owing to the general belief that the men, "animated by liquors or wine, might forget the respect which is due them."

A notable item reads: "The tablecloth falls on the knees of the guests and takes the place of napkins." Another even more startling item reads: "People of the highest rank are enfranchised from the use of a pocket handkerchief, and I was a little surprised when I saw the Governor blow his nose quite lustily with his fingers." The Marquis writes that "before leaving Boston I should really tell you something about the Adamses," but disappoints the reader by explaining that this would be undesirable because he "promised not to enter a line of politics" in his journal. "I much prefer," he adds, "to speak to you of Phyllis, one of the most extraordinary creatures in this country and perhaps in the entire world." Of the remarkable "Phyllis" he wrote further:

She is a negress, born in Africa, from whence she was imported at the age of ten and sold to a citizen of the town of Boston. She learned English with extraordinary facility and read and re-read the Bible with eagerness. This was the only book which had been put into her hands. Phyllis was filled with its poetic imagery and at seventeen published diverse poems in which there are poetry, imagination and enthusiasm, but little method or interest. I read them with some astonishment. They are printed and one finds on the flyleaf of the book authentic certificates which do not permit a doubt that she is the author.

MARRIED WOMEN WORKERS.

There is agitation over the decision of the Long Island Railroad not to employ married women after the end of this year, unless their husbands are disabled. The ruling affects only a few women, but the principle is one that interests all the railroads in the country and all the industries and professions.

The objection is an old one. "Most of the married women who work for the road as clerks," explains a representative of the employees, "are being supported by their husbands, and use the money they themselves earn to buy automobiles and clothes. We do not think it is fair for married men with families to take care of to be discharged while these women continue to work for the sake of providing themselves with luxuries."

This viewpoint is naturally contested by many women, who demand equal opportunity for the sexes. But economic equality for men and women is not so simple a matter as political equality. Married women exercising their right to work outside the home may really be depriving home-keeping women of a livelihood, through the forced idleness of the latter's husbands. There will be a good deal more trouble with this problem before it is solved.

HEIGHT AND PERSONALITY

School boards are always letting themselves in for trouble. Now it is reported that the guardians of the educational system of New York City have announced that women under five feet in height will not be accepted as teachers because they are not likely to have the right kind of personality.

It is hard to many people that personality can be measured by inches. Napoleon and Lord Nelson were very little more than five feet tall. Anyone who has had eight or 12 or more years of schooling must have had or known some teacher who would not come up to the New York board's height standard, yet who made a free teacher and commanded respect in spite of diminutive stature.

It would be interesting to know whether the New York school board puts a top limit on teachers' height, as well as a minimum. Will it hire women teachers who are more than six feet tall, or does it not personally confined to the range between five and six feet?

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)
INFECTED TONSILS.

When a specialist watches certain types of cases in private and hospital practice, for a period of twenty-five years, he should know something about them.

He found that a certain condition in the body brought about diseases in practically every part of the body. In the nervous system, meningitis, St. Vitus Dance or Chorea, neurasthenia and so forth.

In bones, joints, and muscles—rheumatism or rheumatic pains. In stomach and intestine—gastric and duodenal ulcer, gall stones, inflammation of liver, appendicitis.

In heart and lungs—inflammation of the lining of the heart, anæmia, and pericarditis.

In kidneys—inflammation of kidneys, kidney stones.

In lungs—bronchitis, pneumonia and asthma.

In skin—pimples or acne, boils, hives, and so forth.

Eye, ear, nose and throat—all types of diseases.

What was the condition that caused all this?

Infected tonsils.

Now the tonsils are put there for a purpose and physicians are agreed that they should not be removed unless they are really infecting or likely to infect the body. If they are causing any of the above ailments they should be removed.

Now as mentioned before, the large round smooth tonsils are usually harmless unless they are obstructing the breathing.

Even the large tonsils, with holes in them containing white cheesy matter, are not considered dangerous.

It is the tonsils with the very small yellowish spots on them, no larger than a pin head, that give the most trouble.

Further, where there are glands in the neck lying downward and forward from the angle of the lower jaw, then tonsils should be removed.

The angle of the lower jaw is about an inch and a half below the ear.

Where there are repeated attacks of tonsillitis there is always the danger of any of ailments mentioned above, and hence it would be good sense to have tonsils removed. In fact it would seem only like good sense for everybody to have the throat examined as to the condition of tonsils.

There is no question but that infected tonsils can cause all above ailments and it is like sitting on a volcano to have infected tonsils. You don't know just how or when you will suffer an attack of rheumatism, organic heart trouble, or other equally dangerous conditions if your tonsils are infected.

Perhaps you will just feel "lazy" all the time.

So get them examined anyway, and find out just what condition your tonsils are in. A little treatment often makes an operation unnecessary.

PARIS POOR FOLK GATHER WEEKLY FOR ABLUTIONS.

Paris, Sept. 26 (A).—Three cent shaves and five cent haircuts in full view of the public, provide interesting sights for summer tourists around the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

Down on the quay, on the opposite side of the river Seine, the poor of the quarter gather Monday forenoon for a general cleaning. Barber shops close on Mondays, and so do the public markets, where most of the men work, so the holiday is the time of the open air barber shop.

Barbers, working at half price, come with scissors and razor and shaving pan which the customer holds under his chin. The men, while waiting their turn, if they have only one shirt, as is often the case, take it off and wash it in the river. The sun dries it for them, and after a hair cut and a shave they start another week "as good as new."

HERBERT HOOVER

A Reminiscence Biography by WILL ARWIN

Excerpt from the book published by The Century Co.

II. An American Boyhood.

As soon as Hildah Hoover was laid beside her husband in the family cemetery of West Branch, the Hoovers and Murphors held a family council. They would take care of their own. For the present, however, the children must be reported. Uncle Davis, volunteered to bring up Ted, May, still little more than a baby, would stay with her Grandmother Minthorn. And his Uncle Allan Hoover who cultivated a quarter-section a few miles from West Branch, would take Herbert.

little two-story house behind the maples, he was bidding farewell to his immediate family and entering the full state of orphanhood. He looked hard—but with his mouth shut and grief showing only in his eyes. His aunt Millie was an understanding woman and just. For a long time, his elderly relatives say, she favored him—to eternal appearances at least—over her own brood.

Herbert found in his cousin Walter a kindred spirit. Together the boys walked two miles to district school; or, when winter made the highways troublesome, rode double-mounted on one of the farm horses.

Together they did the farm chores.

Still they found time for plenty of play—searching the coverts for quails' nests, climbing trees for birds' eggs, pursuing rabbits, making willow whistles, or just hopping

Pheasant With 5-Foot Feathers Eludes White Man In Wild State

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—A shy, proud of its five-foot tail feathers, a strutting creature, the Argus Pheasant of Annam, Indochina, despite its size, one of the few birds which probably never have been seen in their native haunts by a white man.

Some have been snared by natives and tamed in Indo-China and nearby countries, but one has ever been seen in the United States, and of 11 which reached Paris out of a shipment of 40 several years ago, all died within a few weeks. Even museum specimens are rare, and it was not until this month that the Smithsonian Institution was able to obtain one for the National Museum ornithological collection.

Dr. C. W. Richmond, Smithsonian ornithologist, describes this pheasant as one of the longest flying birds known. The males are the more gorgeously plumed, and the more easily caught. With bodies about the size of a full-grown hen, and haughty crested heads, gracefully tapering tail feathers extend their length to about six feet. Each male has about 12 of these long feathers, varying in length, the longest being about five and a half inches wide at the broadest point. They are richly patterned in shades of dark brown, chestnut and gray, mottled with white spots, and have long been prized by the Annamese as theatrical ornaments. The birds also have been used as a ritual present to emperors of Annam from distant provinces on special occasions. The plumage of the females is much shorter. Their function in the social life of their kind in the tall jungles of the mountainous regions where they live, seems to be to look like the better known Argus pheasants, they have little clearings in the jungles where the males, never allowing their proud tails to drag on the ground, assemble at intervals to perform stately dances for the education of their mates, gathered about as an audience.

Fastidious birds, these pheasants do not roost in their feeding grounds, and despite their extremely retiring nature, a few natives have reported seeing them in flight across valleys en route to or from their sleeping places. Most of the time they spend on perches, resting and at intervals, usually in the early morning or evening and during the breeding season, their long, whistling, rather plaintive calls can be heard.

They differ from the celebrated Argus pheasants in a number of particulars. The latter are distinguished by long secondary wing feathers which these birds lack, and their tails are considerably shorter, with less evenly tapered feathers which are slightly curved at the tips. The markings also are somewhat different, although the coloring is similar.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Rutland, Vt.—It is up to a first cousin of President Coolidge to attempt the impossible task of carrying Vermont for Smith. Park H. Pollard of Proctorsville has been re-elected chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

New York—Irene Bordoni, actress, and her husband, E. Ray Goetz, are back from Paris with a collapsible bar about eight feet long that can be folded up and put in a closet along with the bridge table. It even has a rail, but naturally not every-

Nice, France—The Riviera is accustomed to Dukes, but not to Kings of Flats. Therefore when newspapers printed an erroneous announcement that Gene Tunney would arrive on a certain train the crowd at the station was bigger than ever gathered for the usual Royal visitors.

New York—A Brooklyn man who has just got out of the housework by a writ of habeas corpus insists that he is Samuel Frank and not his brother Albert. Mrs. Albert Frank disagrees. "I ought to know the man I married," she told Justice Humphrey. "This is my husband." And Frank interposed: "I never married this woman or any other woman." Frank had been in jail for non-payment of $3,260 accrued alimony. The judge continued the case after voicing the suspicion that the lady was mistaken.

Angora, Turkey—Coffee houses must now be equipped with blackboards and chalk for the teaching of A. B. C's. The Minister of Education is determined that folks shall not escape instruction in the Latin alphabet by drinking and idling.

New York—Lucky, a German shepherd dog, three years old, swam 153 miles from Albany to New York down the Hudson in 44 hours 52 minutes, about five hours better than man has done. She swam two hours at a stretch and one other long-distance swimmers wore a suit of grease.

Philadelphia—There's an eight-pound baby orang-utang at the Zoo, the first of its kind born in captivity in the country.

Ionia, Mich.—For violating the liquor law Alfred Noyes, 54, must spend the rest of his life in prison. He had been convicted three times of larceny and his plea of guilty to the liquor charge made him an habitual criminal.

Los Angeles—A description of Texas Guinan by herself follows: "My profession is to be the best and most popular night club in the world." It occurs in her complaint in a suit for $100,000 for injuries received in an automobile accident.

New York—A survey by the National City Bank has developed that the average shrinkage in the course of settlement of estates is 20 per cent, due to administration expenses, inheritance taxes, debts and incidentals. This corrects an item which represented the bank as finding that the average cost of administration is 20 per cent. Banks and Trust Companies for years have been trying to establish that it costs no more to have a bank handle an estate than an individual.

SIXTY YEARS A TEACHER, BUT NEVER USED A WHIP.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 26 (AP).—A successful school teacher for 60 years without resorting to the whip to enforce discipline is the record of Miss Gussie Woodruff, who recently passed her eighty-fourth birthday anniversary and her fifty-eighth as head of a private elementary grade school. "Miss Gussie" now is teaching the fourth generation of several families. Among her former pupils are leading business and professional men while several of the state's outstanding political figures received their early training in her school rooms.

Believing a child can be better approached through other methods than whipping, Miss Woodruff, nevertheless, is not an advocate of "spolling the rod and sparing the child." Firmness is characteristic of her every undertaking with them.

Miss Woodruff observes more incorrect spelling now than in former days, but more reading. She would not hazard an answer as to the cause of the former but thinks that the greater variety of reading material available today is responsible for the latter.

"The modern school encourages reading," she says, "and I like that. Story books, history—it is quite a step forward that schools are providing for children."

CHRYSLER makes it plain, even to the eye, that the price of a Chrysler buys infinitely more than it could elsewhere.

This was never more brilliantly exemplified than in these exquisite cars—the new Chrysler "75" and the "65."

They are more emphatically stamped with smartness and style.

They are more dashing in every big and little detail of performance.

They are richer than anything in their class ever has been—longer, roomier bodies with equipment and metal-ware of exclusive Chrysler pattern.

In short, from every angle, they point for comparison with cars far, far above them in price—cars costing hundreds, yes, even a thousand dollars more.

New Chrysler "75" Prices—Royal Sedan, $1555; 2-passenger Coupe (with rumble seat), $1555; Roadster (with rumble seat), $1555; Town Sedan, $1655. (6-ply full-bellows tires.) All prices f. o. b. Detroit. (Wire wheels extra.)

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

UNTRIED NEWNESS

I WAS talking recently with a successful manufacturer about a new model eight-cylinder automobile. The manufacturer needed, or thought he needed, a new car, and was considering the purchase of one. I asked him why he did not buy the new model, for which great things were claimed.

"I never buy any make of car until it has been on the market for at least a year," he replied.

He went on to explain that a new model might develop many unsuspected faults during a year's use in the hands of many owners. Until such possible faults were corrected the model would be more or less of an experiment.

In short, he preferred to let other people pay for that automobile company's experiments.

The same rule might profitably be employed with most new inventions and theories. When a thing is new it is necessarily untried.

A motor or an electric light bulb may be a howling success in the laboratory and a dismal failure in everyday use.

A novel theory of government may loom up as a cue for all the world's ills, yet be totally unworkable in practice.

For this reason the smart man usually insists on a thorough try-out for anything new before he puts much faith in it.

This does not mean that smart people are not receptive to new ideas. On the contrary they are the first to support an innovation—if they are convinced of its worth.

But they insist on being convinced first.

They know that progress does not come by leaps and bounds. If it comes at all, it comes after many failures and many experiments.

And they know also that progress usually comes as a small step in a long series of steps.

They are afraid of radical changes. Hence when anybody tells them that he has evolved a new theory or a new machine which far surpasses anything that has gone before it, they are inclined to be skeptical.

Most bona fide inventors—whether they are inventors of mechanical devices or forms of government—do not make great claims for their products.

The true scientist, for instance, is always reticent about the possible value of his discovery. He never makes great claims for them unless he has satisfied himself, by a long series of experiments, that the claims are not extravagant.

A great ado about a new conception means nothing. As Puddhead Wilson said: "Often a hen who has merely laid an egg cackles as if she had laid an asteroid."

Nothing should be condemned because it is novel. But everything novel should be thoroughly tested before any trust is placed in it.

Scientists To Hunt Deadly Sea Serpent

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Nu-Erb Is Master of Gas and Indigestion Says Well Known Lady

A year's voyage in search of specimens for the Field Museum in Chicago will be begun by the Crane Pacific Expedition in October. Above is a map showing the route to be covered. Cornelius Crane (lower left) will head the expedition, which will use his yacht, the "Ilyria." Karl P. Schmidt, assistant curator in charge of reptiles at the Field Museum of Natural History, will lead the scientific section.

Chicago, Sept. 26 (AP).—Strange marine inhabitants of the south Pacific ocean will be sought by a Field Museum expedition which will leave Boston in October for a 30,000 mile cruise around the largest of the bodies of water.

Cornelius Crane, of Chicago, and Ipswich, Mass., is sponsor of the undertaking. He will head the group of 16 scientists and seamen.

Of special interest among the rare fishes, mammals and reptiles, which the party will try to capture for the Chicago museum, are "sea serpents," found only in the East Indian coral reefs. They are poisonous.

The tentative departure date is October 15. After leaving Boston, school, physician for the party; the scientists will stop at Bermuda, then Port-au-Prince, Haiti, pass through the Panama canal, across the Pacific, stopping at the Galapagos, Marquesas, Cook, Fiji and Solomon islands, before reaching New Guinea.

The "Ilyria," a brigantine-rigged yacht, on which the party will travel and live, will thread its way through the Malay archipelago, up the coast of India, China, around Japan and across the north Pacific to Alaska, down the coast of North America, putting in at San Francisco, through the Panama Canal, finally reaching Boston.

Besides Crane, the expedition will include Karl P. Schmidt, assistant curator of reptiles at the museum; Dr. Albert W. Hesse, Leland Stanford university, Palo Alto, Calif.; Dr. W. L. Moss, of Harvard medical school, physician for the party;

Charles R. Peavy, Mobile, Ala.; Sidney N. Shurtleff, Boston, and Sidney Heap, Churchstoke, England. Capt. Seldon B. Boutiller, Melrose Highlands, Mass., will be master of the yacht.

Findings of this expedition will probably be hard put to outshine those of two other recent parties in which the Field Museum has a part. Under the leadership of Henry Field of Chicago, the Syrian desert expedition on a search for primitive remains of human life in the deserts of Mesopotamia and Trans-Jordan, has made many interesting and valuable discoveries.

Also, six scientists of the museum accompanied the Hawson-MacMillan Field expedition to Labrador which recently returned bearing a large variety of new scientific knowledge and exhibits.

Schwarzwaelder Company Outing

The third annual outing and picnic of the employees of William Schwarzwaelder & Co., Inc., of Chester, N. Y., was held on Saturday, September 22, at Riseley's Grove, Mt. Pleasant.

Promptly at 12:30 p. m., an automobile parade, numbering 27 cars in all, was formed, headed by the Hensonsville Cornet Band on the company's White truck and followed by their other trucks carrying the children of the employees, proceeded on their way to the picnic grounds.

Upon arriving there the first thing in order was the eating of the picnic lunch which had been prepared by each family, during which time the band rendered several appropriate selections. After all had partaken of their lunches, games were arranged for the children and a baseball game was played between the Chester team and a team from Tannersville, which resulted in a victory for the home team.

The company furnished the paper hats, horns, etc., for the children, also served ice cream and cake, as well as lollipops and soft drinks. These picnics are an annual affair of the employees of the Schwarzwaelder Company and tend to create a much better feeling between employer and employee, and are looked forward to each year by the community at large.

MORNEBECKS HOSTS AT WHITEFIELD CAMBAKE

A fine clambake under the management of Matthew Sahler was held at the Wood Brook Cottage, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simon P. Mornebeck at Whitefield, Saturday evening, September 22. Everything was served that goes with a good clambake. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Barley, Melvin Barley, Marjorie V. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Sahler, Earl Sahler, L. Verne Henderson, Carl Henderson, Evelyn Osterhoudt, Mr. and Mrs. Simon P. Mornebeck, Mrs. Debra Davis, Helen Sahler and friend, Mabel Sahler and friend, Alton and Ernest Mornebeck, Beulah Mornebeck, Mr. and Mrs. William Mornebeck. Plenty of good piano music was furnished by the young people and everyone spent a most enjoyable evening. The guests departed for their homes thanking Mr. and Mrs. Mornebeck for their hospitality.

NEARLY 100 MEMBERS AT PLATTEKILL GRANGE MEETING

The regular meeting of Plattekill Grange was held on Saturday evening, September 22, with an attendance of nearly 100 members. Eight applications for membership were received for the new class of candidates to be initiated on October 2. The final plans were made for the annual fair and supper to be held on Thursday evening, September 27. The Wideawake Club presented the Grange with a beautiful framed picture of General Washington. The presentation was made by Gordon Foster, president of the club, and received by the worthy master, C. Ira Thompson.

Current event topics were given by J. M. Chase and Muriel Hedges. Mr. Chase gave a most interesting talk on "Reduction in Naval Armaments." Miss Hedges took as her topic, "Woman Legislators." As this was the annual fruit growers' meeting, Pomona was honored officer. G. W. Weaver and Ralph Ercourt from Clintonville were present and gave most interesting lectures and a demonstration of proper grading and packing of apples. Fruit growers found this most practical and instructive.

Other features on the program were: Roll call of favorite apples, recipes for preparing choice dishes with apples and peaches, given by members of Home Economics committee, an apple guessing contest and lastly a pantomime, "A Country Romance," given by a number of young people.

Ice cream, cake and coffee were enjoyed at the close of the program.

The new maid started work, beginning in the kitchen. The mother told five-year-old Jimmie to tell her where things were kept. He started in by going to the kitchen sink and saying, "This is the hot water and this is the cold water. Do you think you can remember that?"

Tells How it Relieved Boiling Case of Stomach and Liver Disorders.

Sold Here Only by McBride's Drug Store.

A great many Kingston people who up to this time have perhaps passed Nu-Erb up thinking that it is just another "patent medicine," should heed the message of Mrs. James Bryson, 800 Dana Extension, Warren, Ohio. She is well known to hundreds of Warren people and tells an interesting story of her experiences with this famous medicine.

"For many years I had stomach trouble so bad I was actually afraid to eat," says Mrs. Bryson. "Everything I ate disagreed with me and formed gas that felt like a lump in my stomach. I was in continual distress with indigestion and dyspepsia. My liver was sluggish, I would get severe staggering, dizzy spells and my kidneys caused a pain across my back all the time."

"I have only been using Nu-Erb a short while, but these troubles have practically all disappeared. I can now eat things that I wouldn't dare touch before and my food agrees with me. I am free from the gas and dyspepsia. My liver is active. I don't get those awful dizzy spells and the pain has left my back. There seems nothing too good for me to say about this grand medicine."

Free Sample Given.

HOW "NU-ERB" ACTS

Many people do not stop to realize that a lot of outward symptoms are really caused by some deep seated trouble, and usually it is either constipation, stomach trouble, weak kidneys or a sluggish liver at the bottom of it all. Take for instance, foul breath, pains in the back, sore muscles and joints, rheumatism and nervousness properly and these troubles usually disappear.

After taking Nu-Erb while you will notice the bowel action becomes easier and regular every day. Gas ceases to form on the stomach, head, aches pass off, the dizzy, dizzy feelings disappear, the kidneys are regulated so that backaches and painful muscles and joints are relieved, the nerves are soothed and sleep becomes sound and restful.

At this season of the year the entire system needs a "house-cleaning" and countless thousands who have learned its value in seasons past will again turn to Dr. French's Nu-Erb as a tonic and renovator during the next few weeks.

McBride's Drug Store, 812 Wall Street, is the only place in Kingston where Nu-Erb can be purchased. Go see the Nu-Erb specialist now and let him explain to you more fully the merits of this remarkable medicine.

Should Have Kinship
With Gown

New York—With velvet exalted to the first rank it necessarily follows that evening wraps are fashioned of it, and heavily furled, not so much to insure warmth as that most necessary effect of extravagance, essential to one's pride this season.

It is out of the question for the average woman to have a matching coat for every evening dress, unless of course she wears all of one color or black. It is necessary to choose either a neutral color for one's wrap, or a vivid one which is effective with any and all gowns.

Curiously enough browns, from beige to chestnut and through the blonde and maple shades, are proving popular this winter. They are not the newest color but are none the less important for that. Metal evening wraps, gold especially, are stunning and may be worn over tulle, velvet, crepe, moire or any of the accepted night fabrics, which of course still includes chiffon—sometimes treated to a crepe, or polished finish.

Who thinks about fur from the standpoint of intrinsic value? This is especially true for evening, when fur is dyed to match the velvet it trims.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Dainty Frock For a Tiny Tot. 6266. Gingham and organdy will combine well in this model, or printed and plain dimity together. Pongee in a natural shade with pipings in a favorite color is nice. Round yoke sections cut low at the neck edge and with a V shaping in front, are joined to skirt portions in which the fullness takes the form of plaits, creating a wide panel in back and in front. The bishop sleeve with gathered fullness above a band cuff completes this model.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. A 4 year size will require 2 yards of 36 inch material. To finish with bias binding as illustrated will require 1 1/2 yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

LAST NIGHT
on the RADIO

With the exception of 15 minutes of snoring at about 8 o'clock, reception was clear Tuesday afternoon and evening. There was very little DX. The best DX station was WPTF at Raleigh, N. C. Some static developed at 9 o'clock but it was of the occasional explosion kind and did not greatly mar reception.

One of the best programs of the evening was the radio dramatization of "Show Girl," put on during the Eveready hour.

An affecting moment was when one of the vocalists sang: "Cheer up little girl, you're a long time dead."

And when you cry your nose gets red. "Pale Hands" oftentimes known as "Kasmiri Song", one of the best known of the series of poems "Indian Love Lyrics" of Amy Woodford Fadden, and generally presented as a vocal number, will be played as a saxophone solo as one of the high points of the Stromberg-Carlson program for Friday evening, September 28, from 10 to 10:30, eastern daylight time, presented through stations associated with the National Broadcasting Co. A wide variety of airs will be sung by the male quartet and the "Song of Love" from the popular opera "Blossom Time" is scheduled for the vibraphone solo. Bert Wilde, Goodyear tire distributor for this locality, has taken on the agency for the Majestic electric radio and has models of the machine on display at his place of business at 584 Broadway. The Majestic radio, a seven tube set, is being built in two models and sold at two prices. Both models have the same look-up but there is a difference in the cabinet and furnishings. By devoting production to one model outfit and but two styles of cabinet the Majestic company is able to produce a high quality machine at a moderate price. It is the contention of the company that the machine is one of the best on the market for distance, clarity and beauty. Mr. Wilde is demonstrating the models at his place of business.

The party is being held so that funds can be raised to send one of the student nurses to a convention of nurses to be held later. The committee of student nurses in charge of the party is headed by Miss Angela DuBois as chairlady assisted by Miss Ruth Shultz, Miss Gladys Castor, Miss Dorothy Muller, Miss Eugenia Croonquist and Miss Louise Auringer.

Y's Men's Club Growing Fast

For those who do not know it, the picture is "Heart to Heart," starring Harry Astor, Lloyd Hughes and Louise Fazenda. It is a good clean comedy and had a long run in one of the largest movie theatres of New York. If the laughs, shouts, screams, gurgles and shrieks that came from the audience Tuesday night are any indication, this picture is surely a highly successful comedy.

Mr. Jacob asks that tonight be America's Laugh Night at Read's Theatre, and that all League ladies and their families who have not already done so attend this benefit show in order to show Harry Lazarus that the Legion appreciates what he is doing for it. It was by the thinking the use of his theatre for a fine benefit show that has been the first step in sending the Kingston Legion musicians to San Antonio will be put over the top by Mr. Lazarus.

The entertainment committee for next week is Clair Sheaffer, Charles Jorsch and John Porter. They promised a program of exceptional merit. Owing to the meeting of the Franklin Street A. M. E. Church campaign workers, which meeting most of the members wished to attend, the board of directors postponed their meeting until next Tuesday evening.

Albany, Sept. 26.—Many churches, colleges, schools, hospitals, Y. M. C.'s and charitable institutions in New York state will be required to obtain compensation insurance covering their employees beginning October under an amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Law that becomes effective then. Industrial Commissioner James A. Hamilton today explained the new provision making this necessary.

"Hitherto organizations not operating for pecuniary gains were exempt from the compensation law," Commissioner Hamilton said. "Under the amendment that goes into effect the next of next month they will be required to take out compensation insurance if they have four or more workmen or operatives regularly employed."

This means that all employees of such institutions, unless less than four workmen are employed, will receive the benefits of compensation insurance. Educational institutions that heretofore have been able to obtain policies excluding coverage of their teaching staffs will be affected particularly, for such exclusion will be valid after October 1.

"The state furnishes to all organizations coming under the new provision of the law an opportunity to obtain the necessary insurance at net cost through the State Insurance fund, which writes this insurance 15 per cent below the manual rate all other carriers must charge. The State and other carriers for years has paid a 15 per cent dividend to policyholders, this way the total saving to employers is 27 1/2 per cent. This is a benefit that will appeal strongly to all charitable and educational institutions that must keep their expenses at the lowest level possible."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Flour: selling continued to sweep through today's stock market; speculators for the advance added by a reduction in the call money rate from 7 to 6 1/2 per cent, retained control of the general price movement. Early gains of 3 to nearly 10 points in some of the specialties were not maintained, but new leaders were brought forward whenever the old ones showed signs of waning.

Except for the publication of optimistic weekly steel trade reviews, which emphasized the continuance of high production and a brisk demand and predicted heavy railroad buying, there was little in the day's news to influence the price movement. Banks called $10,000,000 in loans, but new funds were quickly supplied and became so plentiful that the rate was lowered. Time money and commercial paper showed a firm undertone.

With several of the large railroads publishing excellent August earnings statements, and the heavy crop movement getting under way, the rails attracted a larger following. Cold weather in the east and middle west stimulated the buying of the contract carriers, Delaware & Hudson, Canadian Pacific and Pittsburgh & West Virginia sold 2 or more points higher. Radio assumed the leadership of the market in the early afternoon by soaring more than 9 points to 209 1/2. Johns-Manville ran up 9 1/2 points and then fell back on profit-taking. Case Threshing climbed 7. Wright Aeronautical 5 1/2, and Woolworth, General Motors, Park & Tilford, Engineers-Public Service and Union Carbide sold 3 to 4 points higher.

New 1928 peak prices were registered by Chrysler, Hupp, Electric Storage Battery, Electric Auto Lite, Gillette Safety Razor and Paramount Famous Lasky.

Purity Baking "B" fell back 3 points on the traditional "selling on the good news" following the announcement of the Cushman Merger, Calumet & Arizona and Atlantic Refining also were conspicuously heavy.

President to Make Grand Jury Hands Two Addresses

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—President Coolidge expects to deliver addresses at Fredericksburg, Va., on October 9 and at an Armistice Day ceremony November 11.

The place of the Armistice Day speech has not yet been decided upon. The President has not definitely accepted invitations to make these addresses but he is expected to give his formal assent shortly.

Representative Bland of Virginia called at the White House today to discuss ceremonies at Fredericksburg, when the battlefields of Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania will be dedicated.

National Commander Spafford of the American Legion called upon Mr. Coolidge to discuss the first draft of plans for the Armistice Day ceremony.

Natural Colors Kept for Amazing Periods

An artist who is careful in the selection of the pigments for his pictures usually reckons that they will last two or three hundred years. Natural pigments have been discovered that have kept their color for at least a hundred million years.

These ancient colors were part of the wings of insects not unlike butterflies. Insects of that ancient period were caught and died in mud banks and were buried by fresh mud deposits. A scientist examining fossil specimens produced in this manner discovered traces of their original colors. Unfortunately these colors faded after the protecting layers of dried mud were split off, exposing the ancient color to the light and air.

Some years ago traces of a reddish pigment were found in the backbone of a fossil crocodile believed to be millions of years old. While geologists once found a greenish pigment, like that of green leaves, in relay from a well hundreds of feet deep in the deserts of the state of Nevada. Both of these finds were doubted, but this new discovery indicates that the reddish stain of the crocodile bones may really have been blood, and that the Nevada pigment may have been that of long-buried leaves.—Montreal Daily Herald.

Yellow Jackets Will Play At Pittsfield Oct. 13

The managers of the Yellow Jackets are in receipt of a telegram from the Silvertowne Club Football Team of Springfield, Mass., requesting a game with the Yellow Jackets to be played at Pittsfield, Mass., on Saturday, October 13. Although the team plays only Sunday games, the managers have decided to accept and have booked this game which will put a big feather in the cap of the Yellow Jackets as the Silvertowne are probably the fastest team in New England. It is apparent that having heard of the prowess of the Yellow Jackets, they are desirous of featuring team at the Field Day ceremonies at Pittsfield on October 13.

It will not be the tactics of the team to play Saturday games but in view of the splendid guarantee offered and the possibility of gain for the players, the offer was not refused.

The management is leaving no stone unturned to give the fans the best possible game and seating accommodation this year. A gang of carpenters are busy moving the left field stands up to the side lines at the Fair Grounds. The grass has been cut, the field marked out, and the grounds have been cleaned up in general.

The team will open the season Sunday, playing the strong West Point Artillery team which is bringing thirty-five players. The game will start at 2:30 and Captain Olson will referee. Undoubtedly there will be a large attendance to give the boys a good send-off on a season which is hoped will be highly successful.

High School to Play at New York

Yellow Jackets Ready to Battle West Point Team

Great interest in opening game to be played at Fair Grounds Sunday—Artillerymen have strong eleven.

The Yellow Jackets, Kingston's representative football team, will open its season Sunday against the West Point Artillery team, one of the hardest fighting gridiron organizations in this section. Local football enthusiasts are eagerly awaiting the game at the Fair Grounds which promises to be an outstanding affair in the history of the Yellow Jacket team.

Not one defeat in two years is the record of the Yellow Jackets. During this time the eleven has come in contact with some of the best Hudson valley teams procurable and were successful against the Artillery on several previous occasions. Several New York city aggregations also succumbed to the Yellow Jackets in past seasons and their prowess spread so rapidly that last year several challenges were received from teams in the far West. One team of Cleveland is especially awaiting meeting with the Yellow Jackets and only financial matters keeps the local eleven at home.

This year's team, composed of local huskies, has every mark of being one of the best produced in the three years of the Yellow Jacket's existence. The burly line men have shown up in fine shape during practice sessions and the backfield players have a number of plays mastered for a strong bombardment against the heavy Artillery team.

Several practices will be held at the Athletic Field this week in preparation for the Sunday game at the Kingston Fair Grounds. All who appreciate watching a football team go through a fine methodical system of practicing may watch the Yellow Jacket evenings under the direction of Coach Carlton S. Preston, who is whipping them into shape for the opening of the season Sunday.

Tagging Major League Bases

By Herbert W. Barker,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

As if by mutual consent, contestants in baseball's two major league pennant battles have settled into a perfect rhythm, which, if maintained, will carry the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees into the world's series.

The St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Giants have matched wits for several days with St. Louis always a jump ahead in their fight for their second National League pennant in three years. In the American League, Miller Huggins' Yankees have been content to win when the Philadelphia Athletics won and to lose when their only rivals saw fit to do likewise.

With the end of the campaign only a few days away, the Cards today led the Giants by a single game while the Yankees enjoyed a two-game margin over the Athletics. The Yankees apparently are "in," but the National League fight may be carried right up to the final day—September 30—when the two contenders clash at the Polo Grounds. That battle may decide the new National League champion.

There was no change in the situation yesterday for the leaders in each league were returned victorious.

The Giants and the Cardinals, however, both had close calls.

The Giants, apparently were doomed to defeat at the hands of Eppa Rixey and the Cincinnati Reds when the last half of the ninth opened. Here Rixey gave Bob O'Farrell, a pinch hitter, the only pass he issued. O'Doul ran for O'Farrell but was forced at second by Welsh. The latter, however, scored the tying run on Andy Reese's triple to field, Joe Stripp fruitlessly trying to bring the sliding ball. In this crisis, Leslie Mann came through with a single scoring Reese with the run that gave the Giants a 4 to 3 victory.

The Cardinals were given a terrific battle at Brooklyn but finally edged out a 4 to 3 win in 15 innings. Douthitt's Texas League double scored Rabbit Maranville with the winning run. Maranville got on base only because Del Bissonette fumbled his grounder. Wee Willie Sherdel went the route for the leaders and would have won in regulation time had not Haffey contributed an error that permitted the Dodgers to tie the score in the eighth.

The Chicago Cubs all but passed out of the pennant picture when they were beaten by the Phillies, 5 to 2. It was the Phils' first win in their last 13 games and it dropped the Cubs five and one-half games back of the leading Cardinals. One more Cub defeat or one Cardinal victory and Chicago's mathematical chance for the pennant will be gone.

The Pittsburgh Pirates needed most of their 17 hits to score a 13 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves. The Yanks socked Grant and Bill Bayne for six rounds in the first inning and had no trouble coasting to 10 to 1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. Tom Zachary gave the Indians only eight scattered hits. Lou Gehrig clouted out his twenty-fifth homer of the season with one in the eighth.

Jimmy Dykes got five straight hits as the Athletics crushed St. Louis, 3 to 5. Jimmy's string included one double and four singles. He drove in four runs and scored two himself. In the only other American League engagement, Washington strengthened its hold on fourth place by again turning back the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 0. "Sad Sam" Jones allowed the Sox only seven hits, and recorded his fifteenth victory of the season and his fourth shutout. Red Faber and Young Ed Walsh were the victims of Senator extra base blows in the third and ninth innings.

Rondouts to Play Blue Sox Sunday

Sunday the Rondout A. C. baseball team will invade Hasbrouck Park, home grounds of the Blue Sox, intent on registering a sweeping victory over that nine. The meeting will be the third of a series now deadlocked.

The Blue Sox have played a good brand of ball throughout the season and expect to eclipse all past performances in their last tilt until next year against the Rondouts. Coach Dick Johnston of the Sox has been telling the boys how to end their season successfully and they anticipate giving the Rondouts one of the hardest runs for supremacy that that team ever encountered. Tommy Lewis likely will be chosen to start on the mound for the Blue Sox.

Manager Artie Golnek of the Rondouts has little fear of losing the Sunday game. He is quite confident that his men will come out on top for they are eager to get a crack at the Sox and are in tip-top shape. Four pitchers will be ready to hurl them over for the Rondouts. They are Dorie, Peters, Coughlin and Cragan. Manager Golnek has not decided which one he will assign to start the tilt.

CARPINO-TURNER BOUT EXPECTED TO GIVE ACTION

Johnny Turner, recent conqueror of Frenchy Dawg at the local armory, is scheduled to meet Johnny Carpino of this city in an eight-round bout at the Woodcliff Park Stadium, Poughkeepsie, Thursday night. The bout is creating a great demand for seats as Poughkeepsie fans are eager to witness these two much heralded fighters in action. Carpino likely will have a number of Kingston rooters at the park Thursday night. Turner is expected to give Carpino one of the hardest fights he ever fought.

Veteran Cards Keep Team Up

THERE'S a general idea that baseball is a young man's game. That old saying, however, does not hold good as far as the Cardinals of 1928 are concerned. With the St. Louis Nationals it's a case of old-timers, veterans of many summers and veterans of seasons in the national pastime, who, as much as youngsters, have carried the team to its high place.

A glance at the roster of the club shows eight men on the team who average a fraction more than thirty-four years of age. And a majority of these athletes have done their share in the battles played this season.

The men in question are Grover Alexander, Clarence Mitchell, Walter Maranville, George Harper, Jim Haines, Bill Sberdel, Ray Staden and Earl Smith.

Alexander is the daddy of them all. Old Pete is forty-one years of age, and thus is the oldest pitcher in the National league and the second oldest in the majors. Jack Quinn of the Athletics is the real ancient. The Philadelphia pitcher is forty-three. But years have not kept Alexander from doing his bit. He is one of the St. Louis club's leading pitchers.

Next there is Mitchell. This spitball pitcher, the only left-hander in captivity to use side delivery, has seen thirty-seven summers pass by. He was signed early in June as a free agent. He had been released by the Phillies, the tailenders of the circuit, as being all in. He had done little in 1927, and had not pitched in a battle in 1928. But he has done wonders with the Cardinals, even though his record is five victories against six defeats.

Three of the conquests for Mitchell have been over the Giants. McGraw's men have beaten him just once, that a 3 to 2 decision. August 17. Those have been valuable victories. And that Mitchell has been effective is further indicated by the figures, which show that in 30 innings, Mitchell has stopped the men of McGraw with nine runs and 30 hits. Thus, the New Yorkers have averaged 2.07 tallies each nine frames against the pitcher.

Mitchell has been in the league since 1916 and thus is serving his thirteenth campaign. But even before that, it was during the campaign of 1911, the season in which Alexander started his great career, he was given a tryout by the Tigers, but was sent back.

Grover Alexander.

DIAMOND PICK-UPS

Upward of 181 American colleges and universities have baseball teams.

Catcher Johnny O'Connell, a rookie with Pittsburgh, is a product of the Akron (Ohio) semipro ranks.

The Birmingham Barons are said to be the hardest hitting club in the history of the Southern association.

Miller Huggins says that the timely pinch-hitting of Ben Paschal has been an important factor in the success of the Yankees this year.

"Lefty" O'Doul, now with the New York Giants, has three times equaled the feat of making six hits on six trips to the plate in a game.

Cary Mays, who was turned loose by Cincinnati recently, pitched in six world series, three each with the Red Sox and the Yankees.

Emilio Palmero, star southpaw pitcher of the Toledo American association team in 1927, has been sold to the Boston Nationals.

There are six big universities in Japan whose baseball teams meet every year to decide the baseball championship of the country.

In his thirty-five years of umpiring, Tommy Connolly, veteran American league arbiter, roughly estimates he has seen 5,000 games of baseball.

Albert D. (Dolly) Stark, National league umpire, has signed a contract to coach the Dartmouth college basketball team for the next two seasons.

Kenneth Ash, pitcher, was recalled by the Cincinnati National league club from the Columbus (American association) club, to bolster the pitching staff.

Wilfred D. ("Bossy Bill") Ryan, the Holy Cross right hander who formerly pitched for the Giants, was purchased by the Yankees from Toledo of the American association.

Lefty Williams, outwaded White Sox hurler, stands out as the best hurler in the outwaded Rio Grande league. Critics there say he has enough stuff today to hold a job in the majors.

The baseball career of Henry Fabian, dean of ground keepers, dates back 40 years. He played on the New Orleans team in 1883 and owned the Waco club in Texas in 1904 and 1905.

Joe Pate, who worked in 47 games for the Athletics in 1926 without having a defeat charged against him, is now a member of the Minneapolis club.

The Giants ball club, which has the youngest team in the National league, has only three players on its present roster who were members of the pennant-winning outfit in 1924—Lindstrom, Terry and Jackson.

Conrad Mack's Athletics of 1923 had 20 no-hit games pitched against them in 1923. Sam Jones of the Yanks blanked them on September 4 and Howard Ehmke, then with Boston, repeated the stunt on September 7.

Tombstone Men Boy

You're not even safe in a cemetery, says a National Safety Council bulletin. A boy leaped over a tombstone, which toppled over, pinning him beneath it and causing serious injuries which may disfigure him for life.

Texas Basket Ball Foes Carry Feud to Majors

Two young Texans upholding the baseball prestige of the Lone Star state in the big show are carrying on their athletic feud of high-school days.

Andy Cohen of El Paso, playing with the winning New York Giants, and "Pinky" Whitney of San Antonio, with the losing Philadelphia club of the National circuit, have landed regular berths in the majors and now they are pitted against each other as they were in the basket ball tournament seven years ago.

Bracketed high school of San Antonio and El Paso high school met in the final game of the state basketball championship tournament at Austin in 1921. The teams were the survivors of 800 eligible for the competition.

Cohen, a forward on the El Paso quintet, was largely responsible for the border city team's triumph. Whitney, a forward for San Antonio, fought hard, but could not overcome the individual brilliance of the little Jewish goal shooter from El Paso.

Billy Gibson Is Back

Billy Gibson, the only manager who had two world's champion boxers retire from active participation in ring affairs, Gibson found Benny Leonard and brought him along to the lightweight title. Then Benny retired. Along came Gene Tunney, a likely looking light heavyweight and in a few years Gibson enthroned him as heavyweight champion. Now Gentleman Gene has renounced his rights. Gibson got the fever and announced his retirement, but has reconsidered. He'll retire only until he can find a new heavyweight with championship possibilities.

Cornie Hahn Will Coach West Point's "B" Squad

Army's B squad, which will bear the brunt of the first team's attacks this fall on the plains at West Point, will be coached by Lieut. "Cornie" Hahn, according to Capt. "Bert" Jones, head coach. This squad will consist of 36 men, all of whom have aspirations to make the big team. This year, with a variety schedule, free from soft spots, the scrubs will be called upon for hard work from the start.

Hahn won his "A" at West Point and coached for several years prior to his transfer to the canal zone, where he has been stationed for the past three years with the eleventh Engineers. He completed his tour of foreign service this year and will report at the Army academy on September 1 ready to start work with the opening of the academic year.

"Waiting" Society

The Fabian society was formed in 1904 with the aim of strictly investing all land and capital in the community for the general benefit. The society takes its name from Fabius, a Roman general whose system of warfare was largely one of waiting.

Athletic Outfield Heaviest Hitters

New York, Sept. 26 (AP).—It wouldn't have taken more than one guess to pick the heaviest hitting outfield in baseball last year. The Yankee combination of Ruth, Meusel and Combs wrought havoc on all sides. This season, however, its siege gun power has waned, especially since July, so much so that the Athletics now boast the heaviest attack of any of the four clubs in the closing pennant scramble.

The Yankee trio boasted a combined average of .359 with the stick in 1927 but the latest unofficial averages show a falling off to .317, with the chief reservist, Ben Paschal, around the same notch. The Athletics are ten points higher with a mark of .327 for the four who have seen the most service—Simmons, Miller, Cobb and French.

The reversible Giant outfield forces offer considerable contrast. The strongest trio at bat, averaging .329, consists of Welsh, Ott and O'Doul. The combination of Welsh, Reese and Mann is barely able to muster an average of .300, but it is more effective against Southpaw pitching. The youthful Ott is the hardest natural hitter in the collection, but Welsh and Reese have been setting a terrific pace lately.

The Cardinals have a great slugger in Chick Hefey, who hits them earnestly and far but it takes his excellent mark of around .340 to pull the St. Louis average up to .304 for the outer garden as a whole. Douthitt covers a lot of ground in center, but he has not been hitting consistently. Harper and Holm, who divide the right field responsibilities, also are somewhat erratic. Defensively, the veteran Yankee trio is the best of the lot. There aren't two better throwing arms in the business than those of Ruth and Meusel, while Combs is a ball-hawk. The loss of Eddie Roush cut down some of the defensive skill of the Giant outfield but Welsh has proved a capable successor.

Here are the figures showing the comparative averages, experience and batting marks of the outfielders:

Club	Avg	Yrs. in Majors	Bat. Pct.
Athletics	.327	11	.307
Yankees	.317	8	.317
Giants	.317	8	.304
Cardinals	.329	8	.304

K. H. S. to Play Here Saturday

The Kingston High School football squad will play its first game of the season at the Kingston Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The opposition will be Morris High School of New York City.

The local grid team was scheduled in New York but Manager Conrad Schornstheimer received a telegram Tuesday afternoon stating that Morris High was unable to secure a field. Arrangements were then made to have the contest staged here.

Morris High is said to have a backfield whose average weight is 170 pounds and a heavier line. Some idea will be had of the strength of the locals in this hard battle. Final workouts are being held at the Athletic Field for the first test.

MANDELL DEFEATED BUT REMAINS CHAMPION.

Flint, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP).—Sammy Mandell still remained lightweight boxing champion of the world today due to the foresight of his manager, Eddie Kane.

Although he was the victim of a technical knockout at the hands of Jimmy Goodrich in the second round of a ten round bout here last night, Mandell's title was not affected because of a stipulation inserted in the articles of the agreement by Kane that Goodrich must weigh in over the lightweight limit of 135 pounds.

A "round house" right swing that landed early in the first round broke Mandell's collar bone and although he finished the session he was unable to respond to the bell at the start of the second round.

Mandell was treated by a physician at his hotel and then left for his home in Rockford, Ill. He probably will be unable to fight for several months.

TIE WOULD RESULT ON THREE-GAME SERIES.

New York, Sept. 26 (AP).—In the event of a tie between the Giants and the Cardinals for the National League flag, a three-game series will be played to determine the championship. John Heydler, president of the National League, today interpreted "three-game" series to mean the same thing as reference to the world series as a "seven-game" affair—that is, three only if necessary.

The National League constitution, however, is not clear on the point, nor does it specify where any such games shall be played. Mr. Heydler said the date and site of any playoff would be decided by a telephone vote of the directors immediately after a deadlock.

Brown to Fight Graham.

New York, Sept. 26 (AP).—Al Brown, Panama, negro bantamweight, has been matched to meet Bushy Graham of Ulster, N. Y., in a 15-round battle at Madison Square Garden, November 3.

Connelly Expects To Beat Vosdick

Joe Vosdick, Kingston boxer who had every anticipation of climbing high in the ranks of soldier scrappers, will meet one of the battlers at the armory Monday night, who caused him to halt in his pugilistic climb. Johnny Connelly is the man and he contemplates showing every fan and Vosdick, too, that his hayo over Joe was not due to a lucky punch.

Connelly, who talks on some of the best in his class at the New York city armories, claims that Vosdick will be easy for him. He is trained down to the finest of condition according to word from his camp and plans on putting Vosdick away in the early sessions.

Joe Vosdick, under the supervision of "Doc" Studer, is said to be regaining the dynamic punch he at one time carried in his right hand. The local boxer's failure to hit hard enough has lost several contests for him, is the contention of a number of his followers, but his handlers promise that he will be able to exchange blows with the hard-punching Connelly as long as the New Yorker is able to stand in the ring Monday night.

Reserved seats for Monday's fight are going like hot cakes at the armory, according to Captain E. C. Lawson, who is in charge of affairs. Greater numbers are purchasing seats that will be saved for them owing to the attractiveness of the card. It is forecast that the bleachers will be stacked with fans at an early hour Monday night and will not have made arrangements reserved seats by that time are "vired" to be on hand early if they "rush" seats.

Special hunting licenses for the taking of deer are being sent out from the county clerk's office to the clerks in the twenty towns in Ulster county. Each license blank is made out in duplicate and there are four tags, one of which must be affixed to each quarter of the deer shot by the hunter. But one deer is allowed each individual.

The licenses were issued by the Conservation Commission September
20 and the season is from November 1 to November 15. The licenses are good for the taking of deer only and cost $1.25. To hunt any other game a regular hunter's license must be obtained. The present form of license, issued last year for the first time, enables the Conservation Commission to make an immediate check on the number of deer taken at the close of the season.

"Crowds at Legion Benefit" : : :
One day not many months ago drifted into Reader's to see "The Big Parade."

A sad mistake.

My heart and soul were torn again in the agony of those terrible war days. I forgot it was only a picture—I caught myself searching—searching everywhere, among the marching ranks, among the dead and wounded, searching for my brother's face.
